

• TERMS & CONDITIONS

Reading this form and submitting a request is a legal contract between SaberCore23Art-Studio and the client. The information entered by the client is a legally binding signature of everything contained within this agreement.

• PAYMENTS & METHODS

The client will proceed to pay half of the total amount (50% of the project price) at the beginning of the project. This part of the payment will represent the money needed to acquire the licenses for the resources used to create the design, but also the guarantee that the customer will fulfil his obligations. The client will pay the other 50% at the end of the project after the design is final. THE EXCEPTION to this rule is the Custom Premade Package – the payment process starts after the design is done and the client is sure that they want to buy it.

The price packages for book covers are fixed, but there might appear extra fees for extra services if the client requires them.

The payments will be made using Paypal : J.putiraniek@yahoo.com

All my prices are displayed on my Pricing page and any extra charge will be discussed with the client before making the product or service that the client required.

• CANCELATIONS AND REFUNDS

Any cancellations made by the client before SaberCore23Art-Studio starts working on the project required are free of charge. In this case, the client did not make any payment before the cancellation. (will be charged paypal)

Any cancellations made by the client after SaberCore23Art-Studio started working on the project required will be charged. This means that the 50% deposit won't be refunded to the client.

If the client asks for a premade (and/or add-ons), the client will have to pay a compensation of 50% of the price of the entire project if the client wishes to cancel or postpone the project in case. If the client canceled the project, the premade will be brought to the original state and put up again for sale. If the client wished to postpone the project, the files will be put on hold and the project will restart at the date the client and SaberCore23Art-Studio agreed upon.

There are no refunds for premade book covers, though each one upon being bought will be considered exclusive towards each client. If the client purchased a premade book cover that happens to not meet their needed requirements, the client can reach SaberCore23Art-Studio for the possibility of relocating the premade cover or additional modifications. If the client and SaberCore23Art-Studio reach an agreement and the client is allowed to relocate the cover, that cover will only be relocated to someone else for the SAME price (or lower) the initial client has paid for it, The relocation process will be handled by the original client.

• REVISIONS

Upon agreement of the first initial draft, which includes main images, concepts of backgrounds, editing services, and overall design, the client can ask at any time for revisions. Free-of-charge revisions include:

1. Text (change of title / author name / subtitles / blurb / etc);
2. Fonts and text styles or text placement;
3. Small changes
4. Resizings for online use or printing.

Paid revisions include complicated changes that might alter the overall look of the original design and changes that require more time to be completed and reintegrated into the overall design. Such revisions include changes in models or objects' position; replacement of models or objects; adding more objects or models; changes of background; etc.
